PREFACE.

Frequent inquiries are made by county officials, owners of stallions and mares and others, as to the legal status of certain stallions whose services are being offered to the public. In order to answer these inquiries and to give information to all parties interested, this directory of all stallions duly licensed under the Act of April 25th, 1907, has been prepared, and its publication in bulletin form has been authorized.

No owner of a stallion not enrolled herein has any lawful right to charge and collect fees for the service of such stallion, since he is acting in violation of a State law and liable to prosecution and fine as provided therein. Entries corresponding to these lists should appear on the record of the prothonotary of each county.

The purpose of this directory will be better served the more general its distribution, therefore, extra copies may be had for the asking.

N. B. CRITCHFIELD,
Secretary of Agriculture.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

---

Harrisburg, Pa., March 24, 1910.

Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to hand you herewith a directory of stallion registrations in Pennsylvania that has been prepared by Dr. Carl W. Gay, who is in charge of this work for the State Livestock Sanitary Board.

This paper gives a review of the work that has been accomplished by the State Livestock Sanitary Board in the registration of stallions under the Act of April 25, 1907.

Interest in this subject is very general, and there is an extensive demand for information upon it and I would, therefore, respectfully recommend this article to be published as a bulletin of the Department of Agriculture.

Yours very truly,

S. H. GILLILAND,
State Veterinarian.

A marked increase is noticed in the number of stallions licensed this year in compliance with the law requiring the enrollment and licensing of all stallions standing for public service in this State. A total number of 2,254 licenses have been issued during 1909, as compared with a total of 2,016 for 1908.

The benefits of this law are clearly demonstrated by the great increase in the number of pure bred stallions enrolled during 1909, which is 823 against 666 for 1908, a gain of 157 or nearly 24 per cent. There were 1,427 grade licenses issued as compared with 1,336 during 1908, an increase of less than 7 per cent. Four cross bred licenses were again issued.

Of the pure bred stallions licensed, 290 were Percheron, 253 Standardbred, 48 Belgian, 43 Shire, 36 German Coach, 33 French Draft, 30 Clydesdale, 29 Hackney, 24 French Coach, 11 Morgan, 10 Thoroughbred, 6 Saddle, 5 Cleveland Bay, 2 Shetland, and one each of Orloff, Suffolk and Yorkshire.

The greatest numerical increase over 1908 is in the Percheon, being 59, although proportionately the Belgian has made the greatest gain, having increased 14 in number or 41 per cent. In fact all the breeds progressed in number, with the exception of the Morgan, which decreased at the rate of about 31 per cent.

During 1909, Circular No. 16, a comprehensive bulletin of 142 pages containing an article on the "Present Status of the Horse Breeding Industry in Pennsylvania," a copy of the Stallion law, copies of the various blank forms which must be properly filled out when application is made for a stallion license, a list of stallions and their owners arranged numerically, and also according to counties was published. The arrangement by counties was found to be very useful inasmuch as parties concerned in the horse breeding industry could easily locate the various stallions in their respective vicinities. This publication was widely distributed in order to give the horse owners of the State an idea of what this Board has been accomplishing in horse breeding work.

Another booklet, Bulletin No. 181, entitled, "Timely Hints to Horse Breeders" was also issued, which contained much valuable information for the owners of stallions and brood mares. This, too, had wide distribution throughout the State. Subsequent to the first distribution of this bulletin, numerous requests were received for copies of the same which were promptly complied with. The interest taken in this book by farmers generally, indicates their desire to raise horses and shows their cognizance of the fact that raising market types of horses is a good financial investment.

These bulletins were a feature of the educational campaign instituted by the Board. In addition, exhibits and demonstrations were made at the various county fairs, farmers institutes and movable schools of agriculture. These exhibits consisted of exceptionally good photographs of all classes of horses from the minute Shetland to the enormous drafter, plainly labeled, to illustrate the types for which there is the strongest demand and the most profit in producing, also charts showing the relative proportion of grade and pure bred stallions, proportionate representation of the breeds, the number of stallions standing in each county, and the relative increase of pure breds over grades in this State, were exhibited. A supply of all literature pertaining to horse breeding published by this Board was made available to all who cared for it and a representative of the Board was present to explain the work in horse breeding. The object of those charged with the administration of the stallion law is to elaborate on this educational work, as it is found to be very beneficial.

An effort was made to organize stallion and colt show associations in every county of the State by placing the matter before some representative horseman in each. This effort met with success in Crawford, Mercer, Tioga and Erie counties. Although held rather late in the season, these exhibitions were liberally patronized by the stallion owners and the scheme in general was heartily endorsed. Plans are already under way for a repetition on an enlarged scale of each of the shows already held, and it is probable that this work will be extended into more counties another season. It has been found that these events are taken advantage of by the buyers to locate desirable market horses, and are, therefore, a direct benefit to the horse owners in general.

A large number of very high class young draft stallions, some of which have been ribbon winners at the most prominent shows in America and abroad, have been brought into Pennsylvania during the past year. This demonstrates the fact that the stallioneer appreciates the protection afforded him by the prevailing law. In many cases, especially, in the western section of the State men who owned one stallion, generally of mediocre calibre, have invested three to four times his value and procured a horse of exceptional merit for which the increase in service fee has been slight, if any. The mare owner as a rule will not pay the high fee which really should be charged for the superior stallion, therefore, the owner must set his price comparatively low and depend on getting a large number of mares which is usually the case. The fee charged by the stallion owner varies, of course, depending on the breed and individuality of the horse standing for service, and the amount of competition offered. From five to twenty dollars is the range of price, ten to fifteen dollars generally procuring the service of the best draft stallion, frequently with the insurance of standing foal.

The number of stallions for which licenses have been refused is not large, but in some instances the license issued has been conditional when the usefulness of the horse was questionable. Many of the conditional licenses will not be renewed another season.

It has not been possible with the funds and assistance available to make a personal inspection of all stallions licensed so that there are still, no doubt, many inferior stallions standing for service. These, however, will gradually be weeded out as their existence is detected. While it has been impossible to disqualify undesirable stallions in every case, much has been accomplished in the way of preventing misrepresentation of certain horses. The mare owner, therefore, has the opportunity of discriminating.

One of the most discouraging features of stallion owning in Pennsylvania is the absence of a Lien Law which, in many states, grants the stallion owner a lien on the get, or on both dam and get for the service fee, thus insuring payment. Under existing conditions settlement is often avoided by the mare owner, who is seldom expected to pay for his mare's service until after she has foaled. Legislation in this direction would surely increase the number of superior stallions in this State.
